++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Remaining changeable with showers or rain. Temperatures still below normal.

Today:
Some showers will rapidly develop and spread northwards during the morning, these becoming locally heavy and perhaps thundery around noon, especially over Cambridgeshire and Norfolk. Drier in the afternoon, feeling pleasant in developing sunshine. Maximum temperature 18 deg C (64 deg F).

Tonight:
Some showers may persist in western parts during the evenig and overnight but these will be fairly isolated and for many, it'll remain dry and largely clear. Minimum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Wednesday:
Another day of sunny spells and showers, these slow-moving and occasionally heavy during the afternoon. Feeling pleasant in any spells of sunshine. Heavy rain for some during the evening. Maximum temperature 17 deg C (63 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Rather cloudy with patchy rain early on Thursday, but brightening up with a chance of afternoon showers. Sunny spells and showers on Friday and Saturday, locally heavy. Temperatures below average.
